The American hog can now go to Germany.

The educated Chinese class demand the withdrawal of foreign missionaries from that country.

The constitution makers are still talkative, and it will require at least three weeks for them to have their say.

J. S. Durham was appointed minister to Hayti in the place of Fred Douglass. Durham is a Kentucky negro.

In the Tennessee legislature one Senator called another "an infamous liar." Friends prevented a fight.

The ladies connected with the management of the World's Fair are decidedly opposed to opening the Fair on Sunday.

The Republican candidate for Governor of Maryland threatens to withdraw unless Charles Westcott refuses the chairmanship of the State committee.

An educated Arkansas negro, Dr. J. B. Riley, in an address before the Palmer Club of Washington said: "The magnanimity shown to colored officers holders by Mr. Cleveland and his administration was without parallel."

Mr. Clay's suggestion that the railroad commissioners should be elected instead of appointed may or may not be good, but it is a display of bad taste in him to offer it at the time he did. He has evidently not assumed his equanimity since his defeat for Governor.

A copy of the Jasper (Mo.) Bee reached this office this week, and we find at the mast head: G. M. Russell, editor and proprietor. Mr. Russell is a newspaper man of long standing, capable and industrious, and if the people of Jasper want a good paper, they can get it by supporting the Bee. Mr. Russell was with the Press five years, and we know whereof we speak.

Col. Franks at Washington.

Mr. E. T. Franks was at Washington last week to assist Col. H. H. Houston in his fight for the Paducah post office. A Times correspondent interviewed our distinguished politician, and among other things he said:

"I believe Col. Houston will receive the appointment, because he is in every way qualified for the place, and because he has earned it by reason of faithful service to the Republican party. It is by appointing such party workers that the President will strengthen the Republican party in the South."

Mr. Franks says there is no question but that Harrison will have a solid delegation from Kentucky at the next national convention.

Damage Suits.

In the Superior Court yesterday William Brayson filed a complaint against the Ohio Valley Railroad Company to recover $5,000 damages by reason of injuries sustained by the plaintiff on account of being thrown by a wagon which was struck by one of the company's engines and through the carelessness of the company's employees.

In the same court Artemus Crofs asks the court to grant him judgment in the sum of $500 against the Ohio Valley Railroad Company for damages sustained by reason of carelessness of the company's employees, which resulted in a collision of one of the company's engines with a wagon while crossing the company's track on Washington avenue.

Samuel Weed through his attorneys, J. S. and C. Buckman, commenced proceedings against the Ohio Valley Railroad Company, asking damages in the sum of $500, for injuries sustained by a collision of the company's engine with a wagon being driven across the Ohio Valley track on Washington avenue, which the plaintiff alleges was the fault of the company's employee.—[Evansville Courier.

There is talk of building business houses on the West side of the public square. Marion is large enough to spread a little in that respect.

BACK AGAIN.

The Constitutional Delegates Begin Their Finishing Touches.

They Feel Happy Over the Result of the Late Election.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 2.—It was a merry set of grave men who gathered in the hall of the House of Representatives this morning to begin the work of mending the new constitution, the document so warmly embraced by Kentuckians the first Monday of last August. Behind the sedate and owl-like countenances of the men who will go down in Kentucky history as constitution makers a beam of satisfaction, almost amounting to glee itself, had taken the place of the worry and doubt that was depicted there when these men parted a few short months ago. The 140,000 majority made this change.

Crittenden and Livingston's big and brainy member, is as happy as any of them. When he is congratulated over the rousing majority his own county gave his deep set eyes sparkle with pleasure. I hear there is some talk of his being a candidate for Circuit Court Judge. A better man cannot be found in the district for the high and important place. Versed in the law, with an analytical mind, an even temper, incorruptible, he would make model judge. He will fill the measure of responsibility according to the Jeffersonian test; he is honest, he is capable, he will be faithful to the constitution.

At 12 o'clock the convention was called to order by President Clay, who made a few remarks touching the work in hand. One thing that he said has been the source of considerable comment and that is his suggestion that the railroad commissioners should be elected instead of appointed by the Governor. The roll call showed ninety-one members present.

After other perfunctory matters, resolutions in great numbers were offered, all to regulate the manner of doing the work in hand.

All the resolutions were referred to the Committee on Rules, and that committee will formulate and report to-morrow some method of procedure. It may be taken for granted that no material changes will be made in the constitution as adopted; inconsistencies and grammatical errors will receive proper attention, and when these are weeded out the work will be done.

Good guesses say that the delegates will be here from two to four weeks.

Ex-Governor Black, of Kansas, predicts that the State will cast its electoral vote for the Alliance Presidential candidate.

More than a thousand people are homeless on account of fire at The Dalles, Ore. Eighteen business blocks, 500 residences, three churches and the opera house were burned.

Arkansas negroes are being swindled by scamps who represent themselves as agents of a Liberia colonization scheme and who get $1.50 for round trip tickets to Liberia from the ignorant blacks.

The Louisville banks are trying mighty hard to have constitutional convention eliminate that part of the constitution which taxes them like it does other people. So far their appeals have not changed the opinion of the revisory committee.

Lieut. Governor Jones, of New York, who is a candidate for Governor, has written a letter to Grover Cleveland telling him to "hands off" in the contest for the nomination for governor, or he might injure his prospects for the presidential nomination next year. Grover generally does as he pleases whether school keeps or not.

A prominent colored politician of Ohio was invited from the dining room of the Gibson House at Cincinnati last week, and told by the manager that his meals would be served in a private room. The prominent colored man grew very irate and went to the Burnett House where he was permitted to eat with the white folks.

Henry Tally, who killed Wm Rice in Union county in 1888, was arrested in Arkansas last week and brought to Morganfield jail by T. M. Dyer, the deputy sheriff of Union county.

The following are some of the proposed changes in the new constitution as reported to the convention by the committee. Those of our readers who have a copy of the new document, (and who has not?), can find the changes.

Amend Preamble, line two, by striking out word "which."

Section 1, subsection 7, by striking out the words, "shall not be questioned."

Section 5, lines six and seven, by striking out words, "or children." Add to section 33: "And the counties forming a district shall be contiguous."

Section 37, line two, strike out the words, "and no more."

Section 38, line four, after word "thereafter" insert the words, "the General Assembly shall meet," and after "ninety-three," in line three, use semicolon (,).

Section 44, line seven, strike out "such change," and insert the word "it;" also in line ten, after word "Constitution," insert "nor to the Senate when sitting as a Court of Impeachment."

Section 47, line one, strike out "at any time."

Section 48, line eight, strike out "by consent."

Section 54, line three, by striking out the word "contract," and inserting the word "or" after the word "indebtedness," and by striking out "or obligation" in same line.

Amend section 61, so as to read: "The General Assembly shall neither audit nor allow any private claim against the Commonwealth, except for expenses incurred during the session at which the same was allowed; but may appropriate money to pay such claim as shall have been audited and allowed according to law."

Section 62, subsection 16, stricken out; re-number following subsections.

Subsection 19 stricken out, and in lieu thereof insert: "To create, increase or decrease fees, percentages or allowances to public officers, or to extend the time for the collection thereof, or to authorize officers to appoint deputies."

Section 63, strike out all after the word "State," in the eighth line thereof.

Strike out all of section 64.

Section 72, in the second and third lines, strike out "at the time when, and the place where, they shall respectively vote for Representatives."

Section 89, lines four and five, strike out the words "and no more."

Section 92, add after the word "adjournment," in the third line, the following: "Or as otherwise provided in this Constitution."

Strike out sections 94, 99, and 106 and insert the following in lieu thereof:

Section 94. A Treasurer, Auditor of Public Accounts, Register of the Land Office, Commissioner of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics, Secretary of State, Attorney General and Superintendent of Public Instruction, shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State at the same time the Governor is elected, for the term of four years, each of whom shall be at least thirty years of age at the time of his election, and shall have been a resident citizen of the State at least two years next before his election. The duties of all these officers shall be such as may be prescribed by law, and the Secretary of State shall keep a fair register of and attest all the official acts of the Governor, and shall, when required, lay the same and all papers, minutes and vouchers relative thereto, before either house of the General Assembly. The officers named in this section shall hold office until the election and qualification of their successors.

Section 96, second line, after "Attorney General," insert the following: "Superintendent of Public Instruction."

In the tenth line, same section, after the word "officers," insert the following: "Liberator created, and."

Section 98, first line, strike out the word "first," and add to the section the following: "And the same day every four years thereafter."

SLEEPY.

NOT SETTLED.

Both Sides Waiting for Overtures.

The Courier-Journal says: "Although United States Marshall Burchett and his force have retired from Lyon county, and the matter of levying executions in the Quinlan case has been dropped, a compromise has not yet been secured. When Maj. Burchett returned, a compromise of the celebrated suit was thought to be at hand, but it seems that it is not. One side appears to be waiting for the other to make an offer. The citizens of Lyon county, being masters of the situation, are pursuing the even tenor of their way, and when the question of a compromise is spoken of they will consider any offer made by the bondholders. In other words, they know they want to make the bondholders do the walking. On the other hand the bondholders say that if the taxpayers can not pay the full amount of their obligation they will listen to an offer of compromise for what they are able to pay. A proposition was made some time ago by the bondholders, but the taxpayers said the amount asked was more than they could pay. Thus the matter rested, and Marshall Burchett was sent down to Lyon county to serve the executions. As it is known, he was unsuccessful. Just how long it will be before the matter is settled no one can tell."

PREY OF AN EAGLE.

Indian Child Carried Aloft and Dropped to Death.

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Sept. 6.—John Cowdage, a Chippewa Indian living on the shore of Echo Lake, started out yesterday to guide a party that was moving over into Canada.

His only child, a girl baby, was on the outside of the hut near the door, his wife being on the opposite side of the little dwelling. When the Indian father and the party had proceeded half a mile or so they saw an enormous bald eagle circling over the edge of Echo Lake, near the hut.

There was no thought of danger to the child, but their sportsman's instinct prompted them to turn back to get a shot at the bird. As they turned to retrace their steps, the eagle made a sudden swoop to the earth. The Indian quickened his pace, and reached his cabin in advance of the white men. When they arrived at the lake they saw a dead eagle of unusual size and formidable appearance lying upon the ground, and near it the Indian babe, torn and bleeding and also dying.

The scream and rush of the great bird upon the child brought the Indian mother upon the scene. Her babe was already several feet in the air, held by the ugly talons of the eagle. The child was evidently too heavy for the bird, and was dropped to the earth, and the fall caused its death. The eagle made another plunge for its victim, but was fought off by the mother, who succeeded in driving it away. As the bird arose in the air it was shot by the father, who had arrived too late to save the child. The white men had no difficulty in securing the eagle, and they will have it stuffed.
